Senate Approves Pensions

Bill Calls For $2,890,000 In State Funds, Hope For Federal Funds

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Thrice rewritten, a battle-scarred old age pension bill was approved by the senate appropriations committee today calling for $2,890,000 in state funds and a hoped-for like amount of federal money.

The bill was given its final revision by the committee today after a Democratic caucus virtually agreed on a pension appropriation around $3,000,000.

The senate figure will restore a part of the 30 per cent cut made in pension checks 17 months ago. "It is our purpose," explained Sen. Phil M. Donnelly (D) Lebanon, "to try to pay the people at least part of the cut without depleting the state treasury."

The committee reported out the pension bill along with everything else in its possession. The action put the complete job of the special session onto the senate floor for an adjournment drive by this week end.

The senate Democrats called their caucus last night to work out the legislative course for the balance of the session.

Hope For Adjournment

The Democrats — who have a 28 to 6 majority to enforce their will upon the senate — apparently not only thrashed out the whole pension question to a conclusive agreement but also decided to attempt final adjournment of the special session by Saturday night.

Under the pension plan mapped out by the Democrats, the money would be appropriated simply for pensions during the period from July 1, 1941, when a flat 30 per cent cut was applied to pension checks, until the end of this year.

That would leave up to Gov. Forrest C. Donnell and the social security commission how the money would be allocated to the 113,000 pensioners.

The amount would be sufficient to restore only about three-fifths of the back pension payments accrued since the 16-month old cut, even if matched by federal funds. The question of federal participation in back payments remained undecided.

The senate Democratic caucus came only a few hours after the senate appropriations committee had recommended trimming the pension measure from its house approved size of $4,150,000 to $2,840,000.

The committee proposed to split that into two allotments. One, of $600,000, would contain the amount Donnell asked to restore the 30 per cent cut for this month and next. The other, of $2,040,000, would restore at least the state's half share of the cut for six months back.

Scrapped Scheme

But the Democratic agreement apparently scrapped that scheme even before it could be reported to the senate floor.

The decision to try to finish the special session by Saturday probably means long day and night sessions for the senate every day this week — except for a one-day rest on Thanksgiving.

The plan was to call the house back from its week long recess on Friday to join the senate in the final agreement on the eight appropriation bills remaining to be passed.

A Saturday adjournment would end the session just 24 days after it convened on Nov. 4.

About Six Dollars Will Buy Turkey

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A good turkey will cost the average housewife about $6 this Thanksgiving.

The Office of Price Administration made this estimate today checking over its schedule of maximum prices for turkeys which vary with different localities and different localities throughout the country, depending partly on the closeness of a community to the turkey producing areas.

Top quality birds will cost between 46 and 55 cents a pound in the larger cities.

Congressman Sullivan Files Expense Account

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 24.—(P)—Congressman John B. Sullivan (D) St. Louis, reported to the secretary of state today he spent $2,250 in his unsuccessful campaign for re-election in the 11th district.

Congressman Sullivan is a former Sedalian, known better here when a boy as Bertram Sullivan.

Zone Leaders Outline The Block Plan

Arranging For Protection During War Emergency

A meeting of the five zone leaders of Sedalia who are to guide the block plan as outlined by the OCD in the event there are air raids or other war emergencies in Sedalia was held Monday night. Meeting with them were J. H. Bagby, chairman of the Pettis County Council of Civilian Defense and Rev. W. P. Arnold, chairman of the block system. The zone leaders are:

Zone A—Charles Bolton.
Zone B—E. W. Kettleson.
Zone C—Fred F. Wesner.
Zone D—Forrest Drake.
Zone E—Richard Keenan.
The system provides for the division of the city into five zones. Each zone is divided into ten sections over which a sector will have charge. Each section is divided into blocks, and a leader will be appointed for each block.

The rural communities are operated under a block system with neighborhood leaders. The entire system is similar to the existing divisions operated by the super-protection group, composed of air raid wardens, fire watchers, and others.

Mr. Bagby addressed the group as did Rev. Arnold. There will be a general meeting of all zone leaders and sectors Monday night, November 30, at Broadway school. They will set up the outline for the block leaders.

Sedalian's Ship Visited By King

A picture "The King Looks Over the 'Bad Penny'" which appeared on the front page of the Kansas City Times this morning was of particular interest to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brill of 505 East Tenth street.

Recently their son, Lieut. Allen Brill, someplace in England, wrote them that they had named their ship, a flying fortress, the "Bad Penny."

The picture in the times showed King George VI walking away from the United States Army's flying fortress "Bad Penny" while on a recent inspection trip at Yank bases in Britain. The monarch was shown with a number of American officers.

No Christmas Decorations

Merchants Will Conform With Request Of WPB

The Retail Merchants committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting this morning, voted not to have Christmas decorations in the downtown area this year. This move was made to conform with a request by the War Production Board requesting cities not to have decorations which necessitate the use of electric light effects.

In making a survey of possible decorations, it was found decorations without lighting effects would not serve the purpose of such a project. In the letter received by the Chamber of Commerce from the WPB it was brought out that dispensing with lighting effects such as an outdoor community electrical display more than 50,000 kilowatt hours of electricity would be saved to be put to use in the prosecution of the war effort.

Will Clean Lights
The committee however went on record as requesting the City Light and Traction company to paint the downtown light poles and to clean the large lamps, to give a brighter effect. They also voted not to decorate the fronts of their buildings as has been done in past yuletide holidays.

The committee voted to increase the usual $25 donation to the Empty Stocking Fund to $50 this year, providing the Sedalia Round Table sponsors the Empty Stocking fund this season.

Richard M. Bates presided over the meeting as chairman of the Retail Merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Program For Public Tonight

One hundred and fifty persons will participate in the "Thanks for America" program to be presented at 8 o'clock tonight at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium, as a part of the "Women At War Week" observance.

This is a free community Thanksgiving program, free to the public, and there will be no requests for the purchase of war bonds or stamps nor will any collection be taken.

Church choirs and other musical groups will take part as well as all veteran and patriotic organizations. A number of prominent Sedalians will participate in the candlelight pageant which is under the direction of Mrs. Frank S. Leach and Mrs. E. F. Yancey.

A concert by the Smith-Cotton high school orchestra will precede the program. Tom H. Yount, vice-chairman of the Pettis county War Bonds and Stamps committee, will give a patriotic talk of Thanksgiving.

The Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Women At War Week here.

Mobilized For Repair

ROME (From Italian broad-casts), Nov. 24.—(P)—Workers from many parts of Italy are being mobilized for repair and reconstruction work in the Genoa and other northern Italian cities "devastated by attacks of enemy aviation," the Stefani agency said today.

All Rents To March 1 Level On December 1

Area Rent Office Will Be Opened In This City

Beginning December 1, all residential rents in the Sedalia defense-rental area, comprising Pettis and Johnson counties, will be cut back to the level of March 1. James M. Robertson, director of the Kansas City defense-rental area, said today tenants are to pay no more rent than they were paying on March 1.

Under the maximum rent regulations which have been issued, landlords cannot accept nor can tenants pay more rent than that fixed by the freeze date. Because of peculiar problems involved in each type of living accommodation, two maximum rent regulations have been issued, one covering housing accommodations other than hotels and rooming houses, and another covering hotels and rooming houses.

Administration of federal rent control, while under the supervision of the Kansas City office, will be handled through an area rent office established in Sedalia and with personnel selected from this area. Site of the office and the area rent director have not yet been announced.

First step toward rent control in the Sedalia area came on July 29 when Price Administrator Leon Henderson designated Johnson and Pettis counties as a defense-rental area and recommended that rents be voluntarily cut back to the March 1 level. OPA granted 60 days for action by local authorities, but at the end of that period an investigation showed that rents generally had not been cut back as recommended.

Provisions in the federal rent regulations allow the setting of legal maximum rents by the landlord when the accommodations have been newly constructed, where they have been substantially changed by a major capital improvement, and where they were unoccupied at the maximum rent date. Other provisions deal with evictions, services, leases, grounds for adjustment in rents, penalties and special tenant.

Opening Of Opera Was Festive Even Though Times Are Difficult

BY AMY PORTER
NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(P)—It rained, and there's a war on, and salaries are limited to $25,000. . . . But Mrs. George Washington Kavanaugh wore her diamond Tiara at the opening of the Metropolitan Opera, and at intermission time she bought champagne for all comers, and it was pretty festive.

Allies Drive Japanese Back Yard By Yard

Mop Up The Die-Hard Garrison Near Buna

BY C YATES MCDANIEL
GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEAD-QUARTERS, Australia, Nov. 24.—(P)—American and Australian soldiers fought their way yard-by-yard toward Buna today against Japanese forces that apparently have chosen to be exterminated rather than to surrender their southernmost New Guinea beach-head.

Extending the picture of relentless envelopment, today's midday communique reported an Australian jungle column had moved into Gona, enemy anchor 12 miles above Buna, and was mopping up the die-hard garrison there.

Simultaneously, American forces overran Cape Endaiadere which lies three miles southeast of Buna, overcoming stiff resistance from many machinegun nests and tree top snipers.

While some of the allied left wing forces were completing the mop-up job in Gona, others turned down the coast toward Sananda, between Gona, and Buna, which the enemy was reported to occupy in force.

MacArthur's Forces On Watch
The Japanese were resisting fiercely around Buna although they were forced to fight with no air support and no sea support. General MacArthur's bombers kept close watch along the coast for any effort to reinforce or evacuate the Japanese units which are being slowly shoved back into the sea.

Allied planes continue to support the ground advance and one formation swept over the Kumisi river, which curves around the battle area to the northwest, to sink a number of rafts on which Japanese who had been cut off from their Buna base were trying to reach the sea.

Fighting At Buna
With Gona entered the allied troops reported on the beach between Buna and Gona, the last points of resistance seemed to be at Buna and at Sananda. American troops were reported fighting yesterday at Buna Mission, a mile from the town and it was apparent that the Japanese foothold there and at Sananda could be no more than two or three miles deep, at best.

While the ground forces were shoving the enemy out of one of his best bases for potential invasion of Australia, allied airmen gave continuing attention to Japanese-held bases on Portuguese Timor which lies threateningly northwest of the island continent. Attack planes and medium bombers raided Beco and Rai-meen, the communique said.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 24.—(P)—William Saunsaunce, 17, and Earl Ray Thomas, 18, who escaped from Algoa reformatory were taken here after a trip from Westphalia in a truck they said they stole.

Saunsaunce walked into police headquarters yesterday and Thomas was arrested shortly afterwards. They left the reformatory Sunday.

Americans Getting Set For Struggle For Air Supremacy; Russian Offensive Continues

New Gains Maintain Average Of Six To Twelve Miles A Day

BY EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The jaws of a double Russian offensive which battlefront reports said had bit deeply into the cold steppes west of the Don bend and cost the Germans 50,000 dead and captured were closing steadily today upon the Nazis' whole Stalingrad salient.

Despite desperate German resistance in an effort to keep open a corridor of reinforcement or escape to the long-besieged Volga bastion, the Russians reported new gains to maintain their average of six to 12 miles a day northwest of Stalingrad and nine to 12 miles a day southwest of the city.

(A dispatch to the London Express under Stockholm date line said Col. Gen. Hermann von Roth, reputed to be the Nazi commander of the siege forces, "has begun to pull out from Stalingrad.")

The deepest reported penetration was at Chernyshevskaya on the Chir river, 125 miles west of Stalingrad and 75 miles west of Kalach, the railroad town on the Don bend which the Russians seized over the weekend.

Chernyshevskaya is some 40 miles southwest of Kletskaya, the Don river citadel 100 miles northwest of Stalingrad.

Southwest of Stalingrad the Russians were pushing along the rail line which leads from Stalingrad across the bleak Kalmyck steppes into the northern Caucasus. They reported driving on after taking Akai in a 10-mile advance from Abganerova, 40 miles southwest of Stalingrad.

Acknowledge Defeat
(The German high command apparently regarded the turn of the tide on the eastern European front as too great to conceal from its people, and a communique acknowledged that the German defensive lines had been penetrated. The communique said the Russians were attacking south of Stalingrad and in the Don bend without regard to losses, and added that "counter measures are proceeding.")

Battlefront dispatches said the Germans were suffering heavy losses in the Kalmyck steppes where they had penetrated late in the fall. Two infantry divisions were declared routed there and the Russians were said to be advancing on a 12-mile front.

Frontline dispatches indicated that the Germans were using reinforcements and battling desperately to hold their Stalingrad corridor.

"Several tens" of German and other axis divisions were reported entrenched and fortified in position.

Four Accepted In Marine Corps

Four young men applying for enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps recently were accepted at the district recruiting station in St. Louis and have been transferred to a west coast training station.

They are: Gerald Dean King, son of George L. King and Mrs. Cora J. King, 207 East Seventh street, and William Everett Cooper, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cooper, rural route 1, Knob Noster, who were enlisted November 20; Robert Edward Brownfield, legal guardian, Augusta Stohl, and aunt, of Concordia, Mo.; Harmon William Gieschen, son of John E. Gieschen and Mrs. Hattie V. Gieschen, Smithton.

The recruits made application here and were sent to St. Louis for their final physical examination. Transportation and expenses while in St. Louis are paid by the government and in case an applicant is rejected transportation home is furnished.

Register For Gas At High Schools

Using the limited supply of gasoline rationing books that were not used in the rural districts registration began in the Smith-Cotton high school and Lincoln high school at noon today and will continue until 9 o'clock tonight. If the supply of books is not exhausted registration will continue at both of these high schools Wednesday afternoon and night, from 12 o'clock noon until 9 o'clock at night.

A new supply of coupon books has been asked for by the rationing board, but has not yet been received.

Hitler-Hirohito Jarred On All War Fronts Today

Allied offensives jarred Hitler-Hirohito & Co. further off balance on every front in the World War II today.

While the Russians steadily tightened a gigantic trap against 300,000 to 400,000 Nazis in the Stalingrad sector, American, British and the Fighting French forces hammered the axis into an ever-narrowing corridor along the Mediterranean coast from Libya to Tunisia in North Africa.

German headquarters acknowledged with rare frankness that the Red armies had penetrated into Nazi defense lines south of Stalingrad and in the big loop of the Don river west of the long besieged Volga city. The Nazi communique said vaguely that "counter measures are proceeding."

New Order On Volunteering

No Enlistments By Essential Aircraft, Shipbuilding Workers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The government acted today to assure retention of a sufficient army of war workers on the home front by forbidding enlistment of essential aircraft and shipbuilding workers and expanding the list of necessary jobs to one out of every nine types in industry and agriculture.

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey announced that the army and navy will refuse to accept volunteers holding essential jobs in the aircraft and ship building industries as well as men who have resigned such jobs within 60 days before they apply for enlistment.

To protect those industries from a drain of necessary men, Hershey said he telegraphed every state the local draft boards should "refuse a release to any registering who is, or should be, classified in II-B or II-C" and who is employed in the two industries.

Not A Blanket Order

Hershey said his new instructions did not constitute a blanket deferment of aircraft and ship building employes, and added that they would "continue to be called for military service as they are needed and as they can be replaced in essential jobs."

The intention, he declared, was to prevent a drain on the two war industries which might cripple some plants if not controlled. He reported that local boards had been directed to call such workers "gradually, if they can be replaced, so as not to interfere with war production."

To guide local draft boards in determining which persons should have occupational deferment, the war manpower commission announced last night the preparation of a master list of essential war jobs containing about 3,000 of the nation's estimated 27,000 occupations.

The list expands the types of jobs specified in earlier classifications by defining more precisely the general job title previously cited as vital to war production.

Axis Reinforcement Gathering In Mediterranean Area Ready For Battle

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(P)—Allied parachute troops have repulsed an axis mechanized column and have captured prisoners in southern Tunisia, the War Department announced today.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(P)—The Vichy radio said large formations of German and Italian troops landed today at the eastern Tunisian ports of Sfax and Gabes.

The ports are key points along the coastal road between Tunis and Tripoli where where axis infiltrations against French resistance have been reported as the Germans sought to force a link between their northern Tunisian foothold and Libya. Gabes is midway between Tunis and Tripoli and Sfax is some 65 miles farther north.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A violently erupting struggle for air supremacy was fought over Tunisia and along the Axis Mediterranean shuttle route today while British and American forces on the ground were getting set for the all-out assault upon Tunis and Bizerte, once the enemy is driven from the North African skies.

There was every sign that the aerial conflict would be a hard one, for great fleets of German planes were gathering in the Mediterranean theater and axis reinforcements still were reaching Tunisia through the allied gauntlet.

"The fight is going to be tough and longer than might be expected," said a spokesman at allied headquarters in North Africa. Bearing him out were reports from both sides telling of the mounting fury of the struggle.

The British Middle East command announced at Cairo that at least three more large enemy planes, which may have been troop transports, were sent plunging into the sea yesterday off the Tunisian coast.

Broadcasting what it called an allied communique, the Morocco radio said that allied air activity had grown "very intense" and that another violent bombing raid had been made on Tripoli, in Libya.

Nine Axis Planes Destroyed
The Algiers radio said nine axis planes were destroyed in an allied raid on an enemy-held airfield in Tunisia and a Vichy broadcast told of heavy air raids last night by Germans and Italians on Algiers, Bone and Bougie, allied held ports in Algeria.

A heavy bombing assault on Bizerte and strafing of grounded enemy planes at Palermo, the Sicilian base from which axis reinforcements are being flown to Tunisia, were carried out Sunday night by the RAF, the Cairo war bulletin said.

An axis merchant ship was sunk the same night by British torpedo planes southeast of Sardinia. Cannon totting British planes attacked a schooner off the Tunisia east coast yesterday.

The middle east command said aerial activity was on a small scale yesterday over Libya, where the British 8th army has occupied and passed on west of Agadabia at the heels of Marshal Rommel's licked Africa corps making for El Agheila.

Clashes In Libya
From Rome, the Italian high command broadcast that reconnaissance clashes occurred yesterday in Libya and on the Tunisian border while in aerial operations eight allied planes were claimed shot down and five allied ships, including a destroyer, heavily damaged.

The Berlin radio broadcast a DNB dispatch giving this German account of the situation in Tunisia:

Strong Bridgehead
"The activity of axis forces in Tunisia is limited to securing the district occupied until now and to bringing up further troops and war material so as to fortify this bridgehead on the North African coast, which is the strongest by nature."

"A railway line leading along the Tunisian coast in a southern direction and roads leading into the interior are in axis hands and make it possible to distribute all supplies quickly."

"The daily growing strength of the axis air forces especially impairs the advance of British and American troops. . . ."

The broadcast said low-flying axis bombers had attacked trains

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
(Major Robert & Allen on active duty)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 — It brought no headlines, but Chief of Staff Gen. Marshall made the first step toward better cooperation between Capitol Hill and the executive branch of the government by holding a quiet conference with key senators and representatives last week.

He gave them an intimate, and on the whole optimistic, progress report on the war, which left a good impression with congressional leaders. Both Republicans and Democrats were present, most of them from the military affairs committees, and also the vice president, the speakers and other leaders.

Gen. Marshall gave the actual figures on American losses in North Africa. These must remain confidential, but they were encouragingly small. He explained that one reason for the light casualties was Gen. Eisenhower's peace arrangement with Admiral Darlan.

Gen. Marshall attached great importance to this, since the army, navy and civilian population in North Africa were under the influence of Admiral Darlan. Therefore he suggested to congress that it would be very helpful if there were no critical speeches of the Admiral despite the Vichy connections.

Admiral Darlan had come to visit his son who was stricken with infantile paralysis, Gen. Marshall said, then had returned to France. But when his son suffered a relapse, Darlan came back to North Africa. Thus it was pure accident, but a very fortunate one, that he was in Algiers at the time. Darlan had given the order immediately which resulted in the saving of many American lives.

Gen. Marshall also paid high tribute to Robert Murphy, the state department's charge d'affaires in France, who spent most of his time in North Africa. It was Murphy who mapped out most of the advance political plans of the U. S. army.

Diverting Nazi Planes
Gen. Marshall was also optimistic regarding the amount of Nazi strength being diverted from the Russian front, especially air power. He felt that Hitler would have to take more and more planes away from Russia to protect Italy, now considered the soft spot of the axis, and that Hitler could not lack Russia without airpower.

Another optimistic part of the war picture, the chief of staff said, was New Guinea, where he expects some real allied progress against the Japs at Buna.

Note: Secretary of the Navy Knox is now following Marshall's cue and has invited members of the senate and house naval affairs committees to have dinner with him some evening soon. As a result of the elections, it looks as if the executive branches of the government had awakened to the fact that there was a congress.

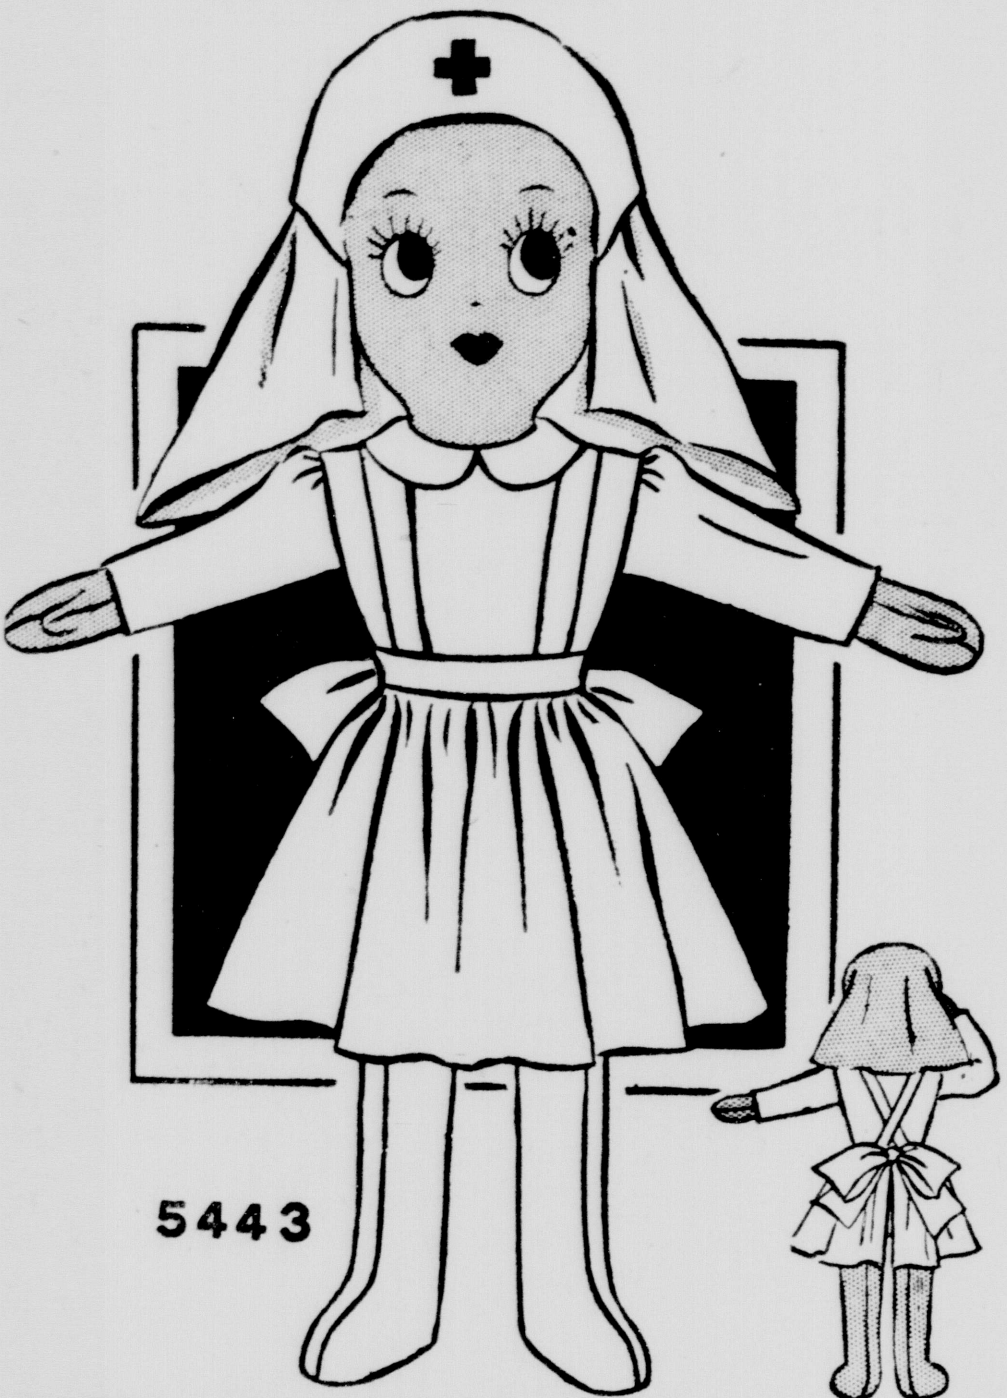

Political Horse Stolen
Democratic congressmen received a form letter from the Democratic national committee last week which had many of them running to optical shops to get their glasses inspected.

Signed by Edwin W. Pauley, the committee's secretary, the letter read: "Would you be good enough to send me at your earliest opportunity your diagnosis of the events or policies that caused the setback to the Democratic party in the recent election."

One of the promptest replies came from re-elected Representative Edward Hebert of Louisiana: "Frankly speaking," wrote Hebert, "it strikes me that counsel and opinions of the Democratic side in congress, as to why the horse got out of the stable, comes at a rather late date."

"It seems to me that it would have been much better practice to lock the door before the horse, ran away, instead of trying to find out now why the door wasn't locked."

"Short-Snorter" Wallace
Henry Wallace is now a member of the "Short Snorters Club."

It happened during the filming of his "Price of Victory" picture in the Paramount studio in Washington. Wallace was doing the Spanish version for Latin America, and the combination of Klieg lights and Spanish made him perspire freely.

From time to time, the makeup man stepped up with polite apologies and daubed a little chromatic powder on the shiny nose of the vice president. Corn-breed Henry, who had never used a powder puff before, grew more uncomfortable — and kept on perspiring.

Plainly something was needed to ease the tension. It was obvious the vice president needed a rest. So the cameraman broke off in the middle of a "take" and said: "Mr. Vice President, may I see your credentials?"

Wallace was mystified. He did not know that this was an old gag of the Short Snorters club, a gag pulled on Winston Churchill in the middle of a trans-Atlantic flight, when the pilot asked him "May I see your credentials?" And Churchill didn't have any credentials, so had to pay $13, one dollar each for the thirteen members on the plane.

So the cameraman explained to the puzzled vice president that a member of the Short Snorters club always carried his credentials in the form of a marked dollar bill. And if he can catch another member without his credentials, he has to pay a dollar for drinks for every person present.

Mr. Wallace, though he never takes a drink, was only induced into the Short Snorters, paid $8 for the eight people present, and was given a marked one dollar bill. The filming then continued.

Note: A Spanish language expert from the Rockefeller office sat in the studio, and whenever Wallace slipped on pronunciation which was not often, the camera stopped for a new take.

Courteous Mrs. Cordell Hull
Mrs. Cordell Hull was leaving the Shoreham hotel one morning when she encountered Dr. Jose Richling, former minister of Uruguay.

"Can I take you somewhere?" she offered.

"I'm going to the state department," said Richling.

"Come along, I'll take you."

She felt Karen crying, sobbing. "What happened?" she kept asking. "What happened?" she kept asking. "What happened?" she kept asking.

"What happened?" she kept asking. "What happened?" she kept asking. "What happened?" she kept asking.

"What happened?" she kept asking. "What happened?" she kept asking. "What happened?" she kept asking.

So the cameraman explained to the puzzled vice president that a member of the Short Snorters club always carried his credentials in the form of a marked dollar bill. And if he can catch another member without his credentials, he has to pay a dollar for drinks for every person present.

Mr. Wallace, though he never takes a drink, was only induced into the Short Snorters, paid $8 for the eight people present, and was given a marked one dollar bill. The filming then continued.

Note: A Spanish language expert from the Rockefeller office sat in the studio, and whenever Wallace slipped on pronunciation which was not often, the camera stopped for a new take.

Capital Chaff
In spite of space shortage, a magnificent suite of offices in the state department is still reserved for the venerable "General of the Armies." Unfortunately Pershing has to spend all his time at the Walter Reed hospital. . . . Even the elephants at the national zoo are feeling the food shortage. The government is now requiring all "jumbo" peanuts to be used for oil. . . . The U. S. army in North Africa will consume local fruits and vegetables, not to mention lamb and mutton, produced in large quantities and formerly shipped to Italy, France and Germany.

Hard-fighting, resourceful Gen. Henri Giraud has two passions—love of France and hatred of Germany. Captured in World War I and this war, he escaped both times; today sees in the U. S. occupation of Vichy-North Africa a new opportunity to strike at the hated Nazis. To this end he is organizing a French African army to fight side by side with the allies. Respected personally and as a military leader, the colorful general is expected to rally a large Fighting French force. NEA artist George Scarbo sketches some of Giraud's outstanding exploits.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes wash out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Official Vote In Election

No Change In Outcome From Unofficial Count

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 24.—(P)—Missourians cast 924,683 votes in the Nov. 3 general election, the official canvass by the secretary of state showed Monday night.

The total vote, one of the lightest in years, was only half that cast in 1940's presidential and gubernatorial election and was 400,000 under the last off-year general election of 1938. However, it exceeded last August's primary total by more than 400,000.

The canvass did not change any results from the previous unofficial tabulations which showed the Republicans gaining five congressmen and ten state senators and winning the only statewide contest—that for superintendent of schools.

Republicans now control eight of the state's 13 congressional seats and 16 of the 34 senate seats. The secretary of state's official canvass did not include contests for state representative, which are tabulated by county clerks, but the Republicans gained a clear majority in the house.

In the race for superintendent of schools, Roy Scantlin, Neosho, Republican, defeated Lloyd W. King, third term seeking Democrat, by 11,948 votes. The official vote: Scantlin 467,767; King 455,819, and Mrs. Doris B. Preisler (Socialist) 1,097.

Auxiliary Firemen Needed

Response to an appeal for auxiliary firemen for Sedalia has not been responded to according to Fire Chief John G. Lueck, who has announced another period of training for auxiliary firemen which starts Friday. Under the Civilian Defense Council "setup" eighty firemen are needed for Sedalia and at present there are only twenty-three trained men signed on this project.

Eight Sedalians signed the past few days as members of the auxiliary force and they will start training Friday. This gives Sedalia just thirty-one men who can be called out in case of an emergency. Chief Lueck is making an appeal for at least sixty more men to sign up as firemen and start their training this Friday.

If sixty more men take this training that will give nine extra firemen to take over duties of some man who may be ill or out of the city in case an alarm is received.

Several months ago forty-five men took the training, and of this number, only twenty-three are active. Twenty-two men have either been called into the service or left the city for other employment, placing Sedalia in a serious situation as far as auxiliary firemen are concerned.

Men who are interested call at fire station No. 2 and learn from either Chief Lueck or Assistant Fire Chief William Middleton the duties of auxiliary fire fighters.

Gene Boyson Eligible For Student Loan

Report Of His Acceptance Made To Smith-Cotton PTA

Announcement was made at the regular meeting of the executive committee of the Smith-Cotton Parent-Teacher Association, Monday night, that Gene Boyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Boyson, State Fair grounds, a graduate of Smith-Cotton has been accepted by the Caroline B. Ullmann Student Loan Fund Committee as one of the many deserving students in Missouri who benefit annually from this fund.

Boysen is the first student to take advantage of a revision made in the by-laws of the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers, in regard to this loan fund, at the state convention of this body which was held in Sedalia in October. Upon the recommendation of a Smith-Cotton delegate this fund was made available for Missouri students to enter an out-of-state college or university, if all Missouri schools are full. Boysen has entered the Nebraska State Medical College at Omaha and the members of the Smith-Cotton P. T. A. are happy that a student of Smith-Cotton has been accepted as worthy of this honor.

Qualifications Needed

In order to be eligible for this loan, a student must have a real desire for higher education, must be sponsored by a parent-teacher association, and must be recommended by his former principal as to character and ambition. Smith-Cotton and other local units have a part in this fund through contributions made each year in February.

Mrs. Ray Hunt, Smith-Cotton P. T. A. membership chairman, reported 258 members to date. She is very anxious that other parents will show their interest in the parent-teacher activities by joining immediately.

The report of the finance chairman, Mrs. Lon Leslie, which was read by the secretary, Mrs. Carl Urban stated that $135.00 was realized from the sale of scrap.

The committee, however, is not satisfied with the amount of scrap that has been brought in and the P. T. A. is sponsoring a "Victory Dance" to which tickets are obtainable only by bringing in scrap. This dance will be held at 8 o'clock on December 2.

The committee voted to allow $100 for stage scenery which is needed more and more as the school becomes increasingly a community center.

Plans were discussed for a Dad's night program in February.

The next regular meeting will be on December 7 at which time an interesting and entertaining program will be presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Vivian Kindred.

J. R. Fullerton, president, presided at the meeting of the executive committee.

Remember The Melita Day Nursery Children

The Thanksgiving dinner for the children of the Melita Nursery is not going to be up to par unless more kind hearted persons contribute toward it. Although an appeal for donations for the dinner was made some time ago, only two chickens had been donated up to Saturday night.

The children will be very happy to have chicken. They like it almost as well as they do turkey, but two chickens will not feed the large number of children who are being taken care of there.

Bob Overstreet, Jr., a young pianist of marked talent, will be a special guest of the Helen G. Steele Music club Wednesday afternoon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Overstreet, 1206 South Carr avenue.

After 10 years of study with Miss Marian Smith, he is now a student of Dr. Basil Gauntlett, dean of music at Stephens college, Columbia. The young pianist had a consultation with Isador E. Philipp of Paris, France, one of the world's foremost authorities on piano technique who outlined a program of study for Mr. Overstreet to follow under Dr. Gauntlett.

Winners of the State Fair junior contests and of the MFMC contest also will be presented on the program.

Bob Overstreet, Jr., was a state winner at the age of seven in a two-piano number with Fanny Jo Robbins of Kansas City, who is now a promising violinist.

Principal speaker of the day will be Mrs. Anna Huermann Hamilton of Marshall, state historian emeritus of the Missouri Federation of Music clubs.

A program on "Poetry and Poets of Today," stressing the enjoyment that can be derived from poetry, was interestingly presented by Mrs. Gilbert V. Jones, Miss Carolyn Courtney and Miss Dorothy Robertson at the Sorosis meeting Monday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse.

Mrs. V. V. Tullis, chairman of the history and literature department, introduced Mrs. Jones who was in charge of the program.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. C. F. Appel, president, who read a short essay entitled "The Art of Giving Thanks" in observance of the coming Thanksgiving Day. The club then sang "America the Beautiful," with Mrs. George R. Lovercamp at the piano and recited the Pledge to the Flag.

The high school students' impression of poetry was presented by Miss Robertson, a member of the senior class at Smith-Cotton high school. Noting that students' reaction toward poetry is inclined to be that it is a peculiar art, rather difficult and a trifle effeminate she offered refutation to such attitudes in Louis Untermeyer's definition, "Poetry plus people equals education plus enjoyment."

Expressive of various interests and ideas to be found in different poems, and explaining her reactions to each, Miss Robertson read poems by Christopher Morley, Louis Untermeyer, Ethel Romig Fuller, Robert Frost, Emily Dickinson, Carmen, Wiley and included three by her favorite poetess, Sara Teasdale. These were "Leaves," "The Coin" and "Bart."

Mrs. Jones gave a review of the leading poets since the beginning of the modern movement inspired by Walt Whitman. Commenting on modern and classical poetry she observed that the differences are not to be found in form alone, or diction alone, but in the distinction that the new strives for concrete and immediate effect.

Discussing the personalities of modern poets she spoke of Vachel Lindsay as being the most distinctly American, Edgar Lee Masters as the most tragic and Sandburg as the one who mastered the lyrical form and at the same time humanized.

In conclusion Mrs. Jones quoted Walt Whitman's motto, "To have great poets there must be great audiences."

A recital of modern poetry was presented by Miss Courtney and her selections included the following:

"Ars Poetica"—MacLeish.
"John Brown's Prayer"—Benet.
"The Congo"—Lindsay.
"Travel"—Millay.
"Fog" and "Night Stuff"—Sandburg.

"Caliban in the Coal Mine"—Untermeyer.
Excerpts from "Pro, Con and Coffee"—Kenneth Ray Connors.
"Flight"—John Magee.

"Say"—Margaret Fishback.
"Story"—Her Ultimatum—and "Healed"—Dorothy Parker.

Mrs. Appel closed the program by reading "Leaf Edge" by Glenn Ward Dresbach, a poet whom she met some months ago while attending a meeting of the Ozark Artist and Writers Guild in Arkansas.

Announcement was made of the "Thanks for America" program to be presented tonight at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium, and that Sorosis will sell war stamps and bonds at Flower's on Saturday.

Mrs. Rich Will Find Hoarding Doesn't Pay

BY ANN FRANCE WILSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Hoarding seldom pays—and it will pay even less in the future if the Office of Price Administration carries through on its determination to prevent Mrs. Rich from taking advantage of people who don't have the ready cash to salt away cellar hoards.

How will the OPA do it? By telling Mrs. Rich that whatever she hoards will be deducted from her ration if the time comes when it's necessary to ration the goods she has hoarded.

This is no idle threat. It has already been done. In order to obtain ration books for sugar, gasoline or heating oil, Mrs. Gotrocks had to state how many pounds or gallons she already had and that amount was subtracted from her quota.

But, again, if she gets away with it and keeps it a dead secret that her cellar is full of hoarded foods (and she'll have a hard time keeping it a secret) the chances are she'll meet with disaster.

Three reasons why hoarding doesn't pay.

So She Threw It Out

Like the woman whose husband urged her to turn in the 100 pounds of sugar she had bought prior to rationing. Finally one day he telephoned her from downtown and, disguising his voice, told her he was a government inspector and that he would be out shortly to confiscate the sugar.

When he returned home that evening his wife told him of the phone call, but added, "It's O. K., dear, even if the inspector does come. I've thrown the extra sugar down the drain."

Then there is the story of the woman who hoarded canned goods in her cellar. The cellar was flooded and all the labels on the cans came off. Now, dinner is always a surprise. She never knows until she opens a can whether she is having corned beef hash, orange juice, green olives or spaghetti with sauce for dinner. And served the annual day of prayer. At noon they were joined by their husbands, and a covered dish luncheon was served.

SAYS AUNT JENNY

Just do 2 EASY things

MAYBE you feel you've 'no luck' with pastry. Maybe you've vowed you'll never make a pie again. But forget all that," says Aunt Jenny. "This time it's goin' to be different if you just do these two things:

"One, get Spry. Two, follow this easy recipe exactly. See what tender, flaky crust an' sodecate-tastin' made with pure Spry. Make all your pies Spry's simple 2-step way an' hear the compliments. Do all your bakin' an' fryin' with Spry an' taste the difference. Watch for more Spry receipts but remember, use Spry in 'em. You can't get the same results with just any shortenin' that you get with pure Spry!"

Honey Pumpkin Pie

1 1/2 cups canned or cooked pumpkin 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup honey 2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1 cup evaporated milk
1 unbaked Spry Pie Shell

Combine pumpkin, honey, cinnamon, vanilla and salt. Add eggs and milk. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 40 to 45 minutes.

Spry Pie Shell

Mix 1 1/4 cups sifted ALL-PURPOSE FLOUR and 1/2 teaspoon SALT. Measure out 7 tablespoons SPRY and divide into two equal parts.

STEP 1 for Tenderness—cut in first half of Spry until as fine as meal.

STEP 2 for Flakiness—cut in remaining Spry until particles are size of large peas.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE ROLLS

THESE gay little rolls, scarlet-topped and crystal-glazed, are kitchen invitations to holiday feasting. Filled with a cranberry-orange mixture, Cranberry-Orange Rolls bow in the traditional yeast breads of the Christmas season with a new flavor.

Cranberry-Orange Rolls make a perfect accompaniment for pump roast chicken, thick chicken stew or turkey a la king. The exhilarating flavor of the crisp cranberry accents the meat flavor while the protein and important B-vitamins and iron of the enriched flour, that makes these light rolls, help extend the food value of the meat.

So that Christmas, 1942 might still have all the sugar-plum goodness of former years, corn sirup is mustered into the kitchen to pinch hit for part of the sugar. It is used in both the foundation dough and taste-tantalizing filling. And it does its job so successfully that no one would ever suspect that Cranberry-Orange Rolls were sugar shy.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE ROLLS

2 cakes yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup corn sirup
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
6 to 8 cups sifted enriched flour
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Cranberry-Orange Filling

Yield: About 4 dozen rolls.

Cranberry-Orange Filling

4 cups cranberries
3/4 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 cup corn sirup
1/2 cup cornstarch
4 teaspoons grated orange rind

Cook cranberries in water until the skins burst. Add corn sirup. Mix sugar and cornstarch together. Add to cranberries and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add orange rind and mix thoroughly. Cool before using.

Yield: About 3 cups filling.

Plenty Cage Material At Great Lakes

Recruits Rush To Navy After Seeing Great Lakes Play

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 24—(AP)—It's not lack of basketball talent, but abundance of it that makes Lieut. Paul Hinkle's assignment of fitting together a Great Lakes sailor team this season a tough one.

From several thousand prospects who have starred in high schools or colleges, Hinkle must filter out about 14. He already has squeezed 17 men from the field, and the remainder will play in a vast intramural program designed to include eventually nearly every boy at the naval training station.

Only two players are holdovers from last season's 14-man squad which won 31 of 36 games to become generally recognized as one of the country's greatest basketball units. The team was so popular that recruiting offices reported an increase in enlistments up to 30 per cent in areas it visited.

Hinkle, who won fame with his quintets at Butler university, has found time between his football coaching duties to round up a squad representing standout performers from 13 colleges and universities.

The roster includes George Hamburg, of Colorado; Forrest Sprowl and Charles Carss, Purdue; George Sobek, John Hiller and Ed Riska, Notre Dame; Wilbur Schumacher and Bob Dietz, Butcher; Gil Huffman, Tennessee; Rudy Soderquist, Iowa; Dick Klein, Northwestern, and Forrest Anderson, Stanford.

Sees Fighting Chance For Ball

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Silver-haired Clark Griffith, 73-year-old majordomo of sports in the capital whose lobbying efforts gave baseball a stay of execution from July to Labor Day, 1918, is going to the annual major league meeting at Chicago next month in the full expectation that the national game will escape war time extinction.

Griffith ruefully admits that priorities on strategic materials used in baseballs plus the constant drain on manpower and the acute transportation situation have posed tougher problems than those of the last war but he thinks that baseball has a fighting chance to complete the 1943 season.

"There's only one way of looking at the whole question," he said. "We stand ready to cooperate with the government. That is baseball's wartime policy. Last year, it was the government's wish that baseball be played and I think it is still the government's wish that it be continued."

Whatever Griffith's connection was with the letter from President Roosevelt to Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis giving baseball the "green light" for the 1942 season, Griffith indicated that no such letter would be forthcoming for 1943 but that baseball would seek to survive wartime exigencies on its own merits.

"The people want baseball. The soldiers want it. The war workers want it. The youngsters want it," Griffith declared, in the tone of a proud father pleading for his son before a scowling juvenile court judge.

All Of French West Africa Falls To Allies

It And Caribbean Holdings Lined Up With Allies

By EDWIN SHANKE

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—All French West Africa, including the strategic naval base of Dakar, has come under the orders of Admiral Jean Darlan, the admiral declared Monday night, indicating that Dakar, for two years a potential dagger pointed at the western hemisphere, has fallen to the allies without bloodshed.

Admiral Darlan, the former Vichy defense chief who led all North Africa into the allied camp three days after the British-American expedition of Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had set foot in Vichy territory, made the announcement from the Algiers radio and it was rebroadcast from Marshal Petain's capital.

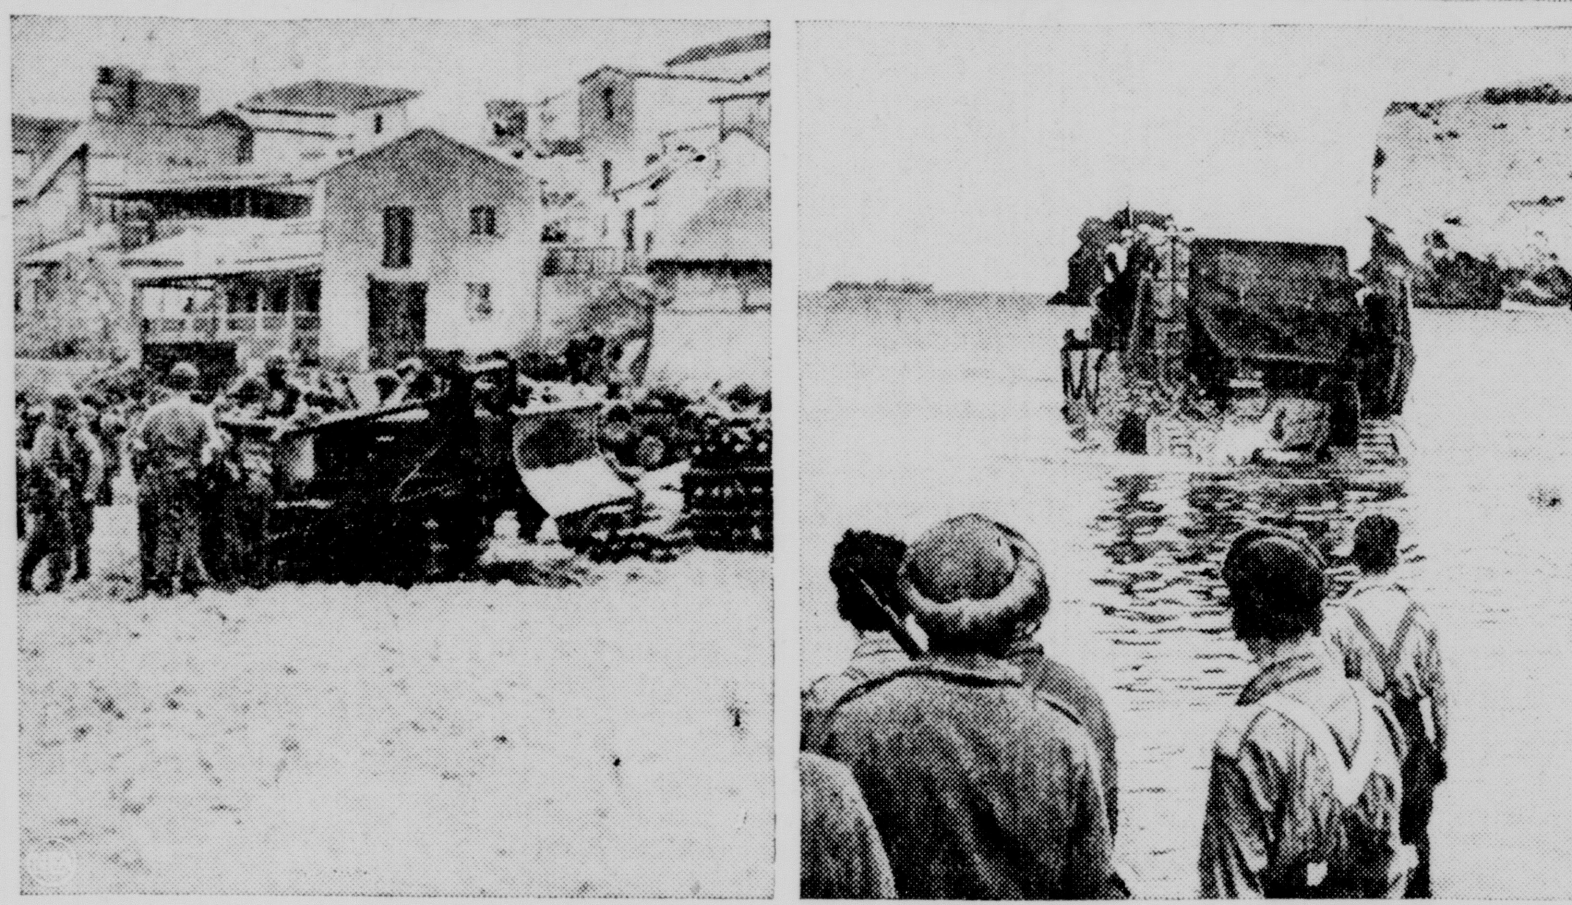

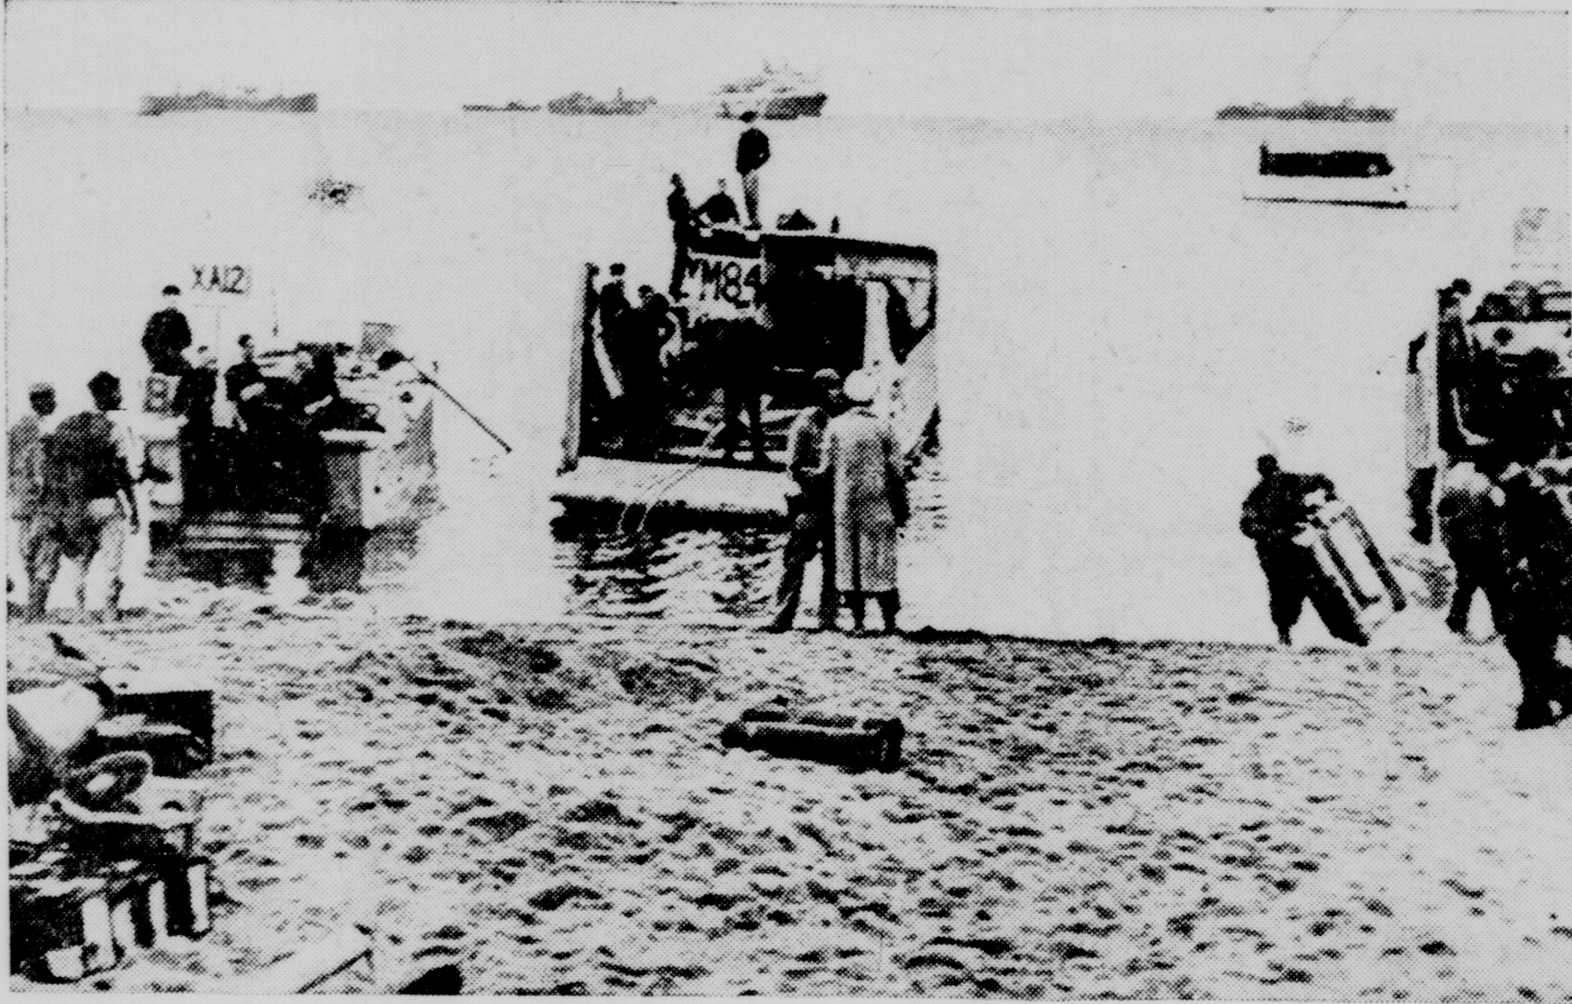

Petaun tonight countered Darlan's move with a special radio broadcast beamed at French West Africa in which the aged marshal called upon French soldiers, sailors and aviators to resist "if you are attacked," adding:

"Whatever happens you must faithfully carry out my orders." Petaun, who according to Darlan is not free to speak his mind, thus reiterated his broadcast of four days ago when he denounced Darlan and Gen. Henri Giraud for aiding the allies and directed French troops not to obey Giraud.

U. S. Bombers Raid Base

Down Fifteen Nazi Aircraft In St. Nazaire Attack

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Flying fortresses and big Liberator bombers of the U. S. air forces raided the German submarine base at St. Nazaire heavily Monday, shooting down 15 attacking Germans in a followup of a strong British night raid on Stuttgart, arms and transportation center in southern Germany.

Four United States bombers were lost. Gunners aboard the big bombers had their biggest day in weeks at the expense of Marshal Goering's fighters. They apparently encountered larger swarms of enemy fighters than they had met since the Oct. 10 raid on Lille, when they knocked down 48.

"Many bursts were seen on the target," a joint communique by the British and Americans said, "RAF fighters made supporting and diversionary sweeps during this operation."

St. Nazaire is on the French coast near the mouth of the Loire, and has been a frequent target of allied bombers.

The Britons last night hit Stuttgart in the light of a full moon. The raiders were described as a strong force, meaning hundreds of the four-motored bombers participated. Ten were lost.

Scatter Fire Bombs

An idea of the size of the raid and the destruction it caused was given by the air ministry announcement that in the attacking force were many squadrons of Stirlings which, in addition to their big loads of high explosives, scattered 30 tons of fire bombs over the city.

Stuttgart, capital of Wurttemberg province, is a center of aviation and electrical industries which turn out engines and other equipment for submarines, planes and tanks. It also is a vital rail shipping center.

It was the 10th RAF assault of the war on Stuttgart and the first upon Germany since the night of November 9 when Hamburg and other cities were raided.

The German radio acknowledged some damage last night in a southern German city, which it did not identify, but claimed it all was inflicted upon civilian property.

While the Stuttgart attack was in progress RAF fighters struck at communications in northern France, strafing freight trains and setting afire a supply ship in the channel.

Extend Coupon Credit On Oil

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The office of price administration Monday extended to Nov. 30 the fuel oil "coupon credit" system which permits rationed consumers to buy fuel oil by giving promissory coupon notes in lieu of coupons. Sales by this method were to have stopped tonight.

OPA said the extension was made necessary because the unavoidable delay in distributing ration coupons, due chiefly to the time required to print the coupons and to process the application forms.

The couple was married September 3, 1939 and separated last October 27, according to the petition.

A. M. Harlan is attorney for the plaintiff.

'T' Rations To Busses-Trucks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Provision was made Monday for giving temporary "T" gasoline rations to trucks, busses, taxicabs and other commercial vehicles which have not received certificates of war necessity.

Beginning today, operators of such vehicles who have applied to the office of defense transportation for certificates but have not received them may apply at their local war ration boards for temporary rations which will become valid Dec. 1.

The "T" ration, on this temporary basis, will provide the amount of gasoline which applicants estimate they will require through December 31. This temporary ration later will be deducted from the gallonage allowed by ODT on the certificate.

Through an agreement between ODT and the office of price administration, temporary "T" rations also will be granted to commercial vehicles whose certificates contained clerical or other errors obvious on the face of the certificate. ODT previously announced that a certificate holder who is dissatisfied with the amount of gasoline allowed him may apply to his ODT district office for a revised certificate.

Want Price Hoist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Congress, already involved in a controversy over nationwide gasoline rationing, heard Monday that the petroleum industry wants a general increase in crude prices—which determine the cost of gasoline for the consumer.

Ralph K. Davies, deputy co-ordinator, told a house interstate commerce subcommittee that the plea by the industry for an increase was under consideration but that no recommendations yet had been made to price officials.

He testified in an open afternoon session, after the group had met three hours behind closed doors to hear Price Administrator Leon Henderson defend the nationwide gasoline rationing proposal and reiterate that it must go into effect on December 1 as scheduled.

but to resist the Anglo-Saxon aggression."

Organize To Fight

The German radio meanwhile announced that Fernande De Brinon, Vichy ambassador to Paris, said Pierre Laval, Vichy chief of government, was forming a "volunteer corps" to be known as "the African falange," to fight against the allies in North Africa.

"Applications may be made throughout France and members of the French armistice army will be admitted," De Brinon was quoted as saying.

A French volunteer group is ready to leave for Africa "in defense of the French empire," Brinon added.

The announcement was made as the allies rapidly forced the issue in Tunisia and Libya, the only remaining territory in the continent of Africa which is not under the United Nations colors or neutral.

The British first army, with its American components, and the proallied French, were reported to have launched a heavy and perhaps general attack on the perimeter of axis defenses outside Tunis and Bizerte in the northern tip of Tunisia, while fighting off German and Italian attempts to infiltrate through the allied lines from both north and south in an apparent effort to establish a connection with the hard-driven Africa corps of Marshal Erwin Rommel in Tripoli.

The German radio hinted that Rommel might already have shifted some of his Africa corps to Tunisia and now was bending his chief effort to holding that bridgehead, rather than Tripoli, on the south side of the Middle Mediterranean.

Darlan's announcement followed by a few hours a statement by Secretary of State Cordell Hull at Washington that an agreement had been reached with Admiral George Robert, French high commissioner at Martinique which would make it unnecessary for American forces to occupy any French possessions in the Caribbean. The agreement applied to all French possessions on both sides of the South Atlantic now are cooperating with the allies.

Fleet Still Problem

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The vexing and vital question mark which the axis drew over the last French possessions remaining under nominal Vichy rule was straightened out into a United Nations exclamation point today by diplomacy rather than force of arms.

Secretary of State Hull announced the conclusion of a satisfactory agreement with Admiral George Robert, French high commissioner at Martinique, regarding the French Caribbean possessions of Martinique, Guadeloupe and French Guiana, as a result of which American occupation will be unnecessary.

And Admiral Jean Darlan, former Vichy defense chief who went over to the allies in North Africa, announced in Algiers that Dakar and all French West Africa—Senegal, French Guinea, the French Sudan, Dahomey, the Ivory coast, Mauritania and Niger—had "placed itself freely" under his control.

Thus were liquidated in favor of the United Nations the last of the problems which arose after the French surrender except that regarding control of the French fleet now at Toulon. American forces occupy the French North Africa colonies. The British hold Madagascar. And the fighting French control France's Islands in the Pacific and the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon off Newfoundland.

Hull announced the agreement with Robert at his press conference. Beyond saying it made American occupation unnecessary, he gave no details but said that additional information might be made public soon.

Hull recalled that negotiations designed to remove the threat of axis seizure of French Caribbean bases were begun in 1940, shortly after the fall of France, and that those negotiations led to an agreement on various points. The new agreement, he explained, constituted a continuance of the previous arrangement, with modifications and additions.

He said its primary purpose served American security, while a secondary purpose was the stabilization of economic conditions in the Caribbean colonies now cut off from France.

The secretary emphasized that Admiral John H. Hoover of the United States navy and Samuel Reber of the state department, who went to Martinique last May to negotiate the new agreement, dealt directly with Robert as the ultimate French authority there. It was made clear to Robert, Hull said, that the United States was not having anything to do with the Vichy government in this matter.

President Roosevelt sent Hoover and Reber to Martinique May 9 with the assurance that if satisfactory arrangements were reached safeguarding western hemisphere security the United States would be prepared to "safeguard the interest of France in these areas, to maintain their economic life, and to assure that all assets of the French government in the French Caribbean possessions be held for the ultimate use of the French people."

Five days later it was disclosed that American naval officers, with the collaboration of French authorities on the spot, had begun the immobilization of the French warships at Martinique.

Later Hull said most of the military questions had been settled but that economic questions, including the disposition of French merchant ships, might occupy the negotiators for some time.

Rupture of diplomatic relations with the Vichy government early this month simplified the Martinique situation by emphasizing the United States determination to deal alone through Robert on Caribbean questions without reference to Vichy.

Wants Return Of State Rights

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Attorney General Abram P. Staples of Virginia, president of the national association of attorneys general, Monday urged concerted action to insure return of states' rights after the war.

In an address at the organization's annual conference the Virginian admitted individual states should yield war-time control to the federal government and said this was no time to be "contentious or technical," but added: "We must ever be conscious that once the congress has exercised the war power in a normal state field, it will be reluctant to recognize when peace comes that it must relinquish that field."

"In fact, I regret to say, from my observations of the actions of congress, I do not believe it will relinquish it or willingly recognize any constitutional limitations on its own legislative function unless the people of the states insist that it do so."

Staples advocated each attorney general keep his state's congressmen informed of what he deems harmful provisions in pending national legislation, particularly provisions infringing upon states' rights.

'Ration-Banking' On Coupons

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—"Ration Banking", a system to facilitate the handling of ration coupons which consumers turn in to dealers, will be put in operation throughout the country some time in January, Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced Monday night.

The 14,000 commercial banks which carry monetary checking accounts will handle ration coupons in similar checking accounts. They will act as agents for OPA and will be reimbursed by the government for their expenses.

The system provides that a grocer, for example, may deposit with the bank all the sugar ration coupons he collects from his customers. Then when the grocer wants to replenish his sugar stock, he can draw a "check" on his rationing account for the requisite number of coupons and deliver the check to his supplier. The latter in turn would deposit the check in his own rationing account to be cleared through the banks the same as checks for money.

Dealers in more than one rationed commodity will have separate accounts for each. Thus a general store might have separate rationing accounts for sugar, coffee and gasoline in the same bank. The accounts will be kept in pounds or gallons instead of dollars and cents.
